

90 per cent of its members. That is what he wants to send out to the country. Is it a fact?

Mr. SPROULE. It is about as close to the facts as he came in his speech.

Mr. TAYLOR. The fact is there are 70 members of the Roman Catholic faith, as I understand, out of 214. Then, he insinuated that I had misquoted the Minister of Justice (Mr. Fitzpatrick). I defy any man to show that I have ever misquoted a member of this House or made a statement here or elsewhere that I did not believe to be true. I read the words of the Minister of Justice, and read as much as related to the argument I was making. The hon. gentleman (Mr. D. D. McKenzie) read another clause, one that did not refer to the argument the Minister of Justice was making at that time. The hon. gentleman further said that he took no stock in a party that would violate its agreement. What party violated that agreement? Hon. gentlemen opposite have done the talking. The Minister of Customs (Mr. Paterson) spoke for half an hour and before dinner the Minister of Finance (Mr. Fielding)—

Mr. SPROULE. He started the fight.

Mr. TAYLOR. And after dinner the Minister of Customs repeated between fifty and a hundred times—

Mr. PATERSON. The hon. gentleman (Mr. Taylor) is giving too high a percentage now.

Mr. O. E. TALBOT. Only 90 per cent too high.

Mr. TAYLOR. I do not interrupt my hon. friend from Bellechasse (Mr. O. E. Talbot) when he is speaking, and I will thank him not to interrupt me. If the Minister of Customs will go over his speeches in 'Hansard' to-morrow, I think he will find between fifty and a hundred times that remark about the twenty-six men and the four or five men in Alberta. And the discussion has been followed up man and man about. Yet the hon. gentleman (Mr. D. D. McKenzie) tries to make out that there has been a violation of agreement.

Mr. D. D. McKENZIE. I read the agreement.

Mr. TAYLOR. But his is part and parcel of the Liberal party's methods—they try to make the people believe, as their newspaper did, that they are the white men and the Conservatives are the yellow dogs. When I spoke I said what I thought was due concerning the hon. member for East Grey (Mr. Sproule). And the hon. gentleman has spoken for himself. No man has ever heard the hon. member for East Grey parade the fact that he is Grand Master of the Orange Society. And he may fairly claim that, because of that office he is entitled to respect instead of being sneered at. He has asked for the protection of the House, and he tells us that from this day he will insist on being treated with the same respect that is due, and that he has always shown to other members. I am safe in saying that no hon. member on the other side has ever been interrupted while speaking as the hon. member for East Grey has been? We, on this side, no matter who is speaking, endeavour to keep within, not only the rules of the House, but the courtesies that should exist between hon. members. I say now what I said two hours ago, that I think it is about time we responded to the request of the Minister of Justice and stopped this discussion. The discussion should have stopped and would have stopped, had it not been that it was carried on by supporters of the government. They began it and have kept it up.

Motion (Mr. Sam. Hughes) negatived.

Mr. FITZPATRICK. I move that we now consider section 20.

Motion agreed to.

On section 20,

The Dominion lands in the said province shall continue to be vested in the Crown and administered by the government of Canada for the purposes of Canada, subject to the provisions of the Northwest Territories Act, as amended, with respect to road allowances and roads or trails as in force on the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and five, which shall apply to the said province with the substitution therein of the said province for the Northwest Territories.

Mr. FITZPATRICK. I move to strike out the words 'Northwest Territories Act as amended,' and substitute 'any Act of the parliament of Canada.'

Mr. SPROULE. It is not intended to dispose of this clause to-night.

Mr. FITZPATRICK. I have an arrangement with the leader of the opposition on that point. I also propose to add a subsection to clause 20 of the Alberta Bill and this subsection will apply only exclusively to the Alberta Bill. It is as follows:—

2. The Rocky Mountains Park shall continue to be subject to the provisions of the Acts of the parliament of Canada applying thereto and to regulations made or to be made thereunder; provided that the provincial laws shall apply to and be operative within the said park so far as they are not inconsistent with such Acts and regulations.

Mr. SPROULE. I want to say if the Minister of Justice will not deign to reply to a respectful question he can take that as his means of doing business—

Mr. FITZPATRICK. I do not think that the hon. member who has been delaying the committee all evening has a right to lecture me in this way. I had an arrange-
