12 o'clock the Speaker and the whole proceeded to Government House, and anted to his Excellency the address in rophy sopening speech, and being returned, a Speaker informed the House that while in tatendance on his Excellency the Gov-rnor, at Government House, he had presented to his Excellency the address of thanks, to which his Excellency the made the following reply:—

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Honorable House of Assembly.

Treediev your Address with much gratification. I am glad to be assured of approval of the course taken by the Government, with regarl to the Proclimation notifying that Government relief would in future be confined to desitive widows and ophans and the sick and infirm poor. I am sattefied that strict adherence to this course is essential to the future well being of the whole community. It is the interest, no less then the duty, of all those why can render any aid to the more necessitous of their fellow citizens, by doing so to assist the Government in their effort to rid the Golony of the vicious system which has hitherto paralyzed all healthy energy, and so greatly promoted improdence among large numbers of its population. Her Mejesty's Government will learn with sarisfaction that y.u are prepared to take action on the question of Unian with the Dominion of Canada; and I have no doubt that pou will be able to settle such term of arrangement for this purpose as will be acceptable to the Government of the Dominion, while materially conducive to the interests of this Colony. In this case the good sense of the constituencies can scacedly permit them to without their approval of such an arrangement; and its ratification by Her keigesty may confidently be antisipated.

Mr. HYATT asked and obtained leave of absence for the remalader of the session.

The Hon. ATTORNEY GENERAL then said he was sure that all had heard with deep regret the melantcholy intelligence which had just been received, of the death of the Hyn. Janys Colundor, and his strice attention to his dates hud mer with the pulping position as a Logislative Councillor, and his strice attention to his dates hud mer with the approbation of all. He (hon. A.G.) was sure that this House would have would him. He had been along one whose Iss we must all deeply deplore, and it was but right that we should thus recognise his merits, and pay a tribute of respect to his melosty.

The Hon. Reserver General was indeed pleus die to see turs disposition on the part of the flouse to respect the memory of a gentificant which had been alike an honor to his native and his adopted country, in every relation of life in which ha been placed. He had been much service to the people of the locality in which he had so long resided, and carried on a large commercial business. Commercially his worth was well known, and he diffused comfort and happiness amongst all about him, you whom he would now be deeply mysed. In his polytical sphere he had discarreged this duty creditably to himself. He (hom. R.-9.) was now humself fast approaching the 's sere and yellow lead, and thus he he more deeply fet the deprivation which the more deeply fet the deprivation which the country had sustained, in the base of a public man and a good citizas, while he privately mourated the loss of a valued and attached irrend. But he had peculiar reasons for not allowing the occision to pass without express reference on his part to one, the recollection of whom had been associated with his earliest years, for woon he had ever possessed a warm frendship and regard, and who, besides the associations of private life, had been to some years a brother member in the co-printed brauen of the Legislature, the Legislative Council. He (Mr. P.) could therefore speak of the deceased none, gentlemen o

ST. JOHN'S:

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1869.

The Government propositions as to the terms on which they think this colony should enter into Confederation were introduced for discussion in Committee of the Assembly yesterday by the Hon. Attorney General; Mr. Glen, the hon. Mr. Shea, and Mr. Hog-ett followed, when the Committee rorse and the debate was a journed to to-day.

These terms (for which we have not room in extense to-day), are in the first place that the Dominion Government shall defray a sum of $208,462 of our public expenditure, being the salaries and expenses of those departments of which they would assume control, Governor, Judges, Customs, Post Office, Light Houses, Surveyor General, &c. &c. Office, Light Houses, Surveyor General, &c. &c. $208,462

In addition to this sum of would be Assets applicable to local pur-

"Together with the just claims of this colony for other charges and concessions of like character with those borne or made by the Dominion with reference to the other provinces."

The public debt and liabilities to be assumed by the Dominion Government.

No tax to be levied on our exports unless a similar one be laid on all the staple products of the other provinces.

Domicion Government to assume the ch interest on £50,000 of Water Company's Stock.

Oceanic, Colonial and Coastal Steam Communication to be provided by the Government of the

No final arrangement until an appeal be made to the people at next genural election.

In connection with these proposed terms, is a plan of a future constitution on a reduced scale, abolishing the Legislative Council, reducing the number of representatives to fifteen, and largely decreasing allowances for salaries &z. This would bring the future expenditure for these services down to $215,810, which being defrayed from the above stated sum applicable to local purposes, viz., $408,922, would leave an annual balance available to roads and other public improvements of about for roads $163,112.

We think the opinion of the country will infallibly be that these terms conprise a most equitable arrangement, and that the colony should not besitate to ratily it.

The remains of the Honble. James Cormack were brought here for interment on Monday last by the S. eamer Lizzie, which arrived about four o'clock. The body was met at Messrs. ORMAN ASYLUX SCROOL.
February 19th, 1869.
The adjourned Anniversary Meeting of the Banevolent Irish Society was held here this day. Hon. Edward Morris, President, in the chair.

M. O'Regan, Esq. being proposed and seconded was admitted by builot a member of the Society. The Minutes of the last quarterly morting were read over and confirmed, the roll was called, and the sum of £59 12s. 11d. collected.

The Treasurer reported the gross amount expended during the year, for Teachers' salaries, improvements. &.., &c., as £115 153 2d., and the gross receipts from all sources £676 9s 10d, leaving a balance to the credit of the Society, irrespective of the day's collection, of £150 14s 3d.), but subject to claims for Teachers' salaries now due. The Report was on motion received and adopted.

The Chairman of the School Committee then read his Report of the condition of the Schools and the Industrial Department, which was as follows:

Report of the Committee of the Orphan Asplum-Schools, for the year ended, February 17th 1869.

Your Committee, in resigning the trust reposed in them for the past year, beg respectfully to submit the following Report:—

That the daily attendance in both Schools shows an increase over the preceding two or three years; still your Committee regret that the attendance is not such as the Society might expect from the large amount expended in their support, but this non-attendance may in some degree be attributed to the extreme poverty of the times.

The Industrial Department, as the Society will observe from the retarns laid on the table, has not been able to meet the expenses attending it; still the balance is trifling, and your Committee in the way of improvement or repairs the past year has been trifling, and only what was abolucing necessary to keep the Building Fand as largely as may be convenient, so as to be able, as soon as possible, Rice, Esq., seconded by William P. Walsh, Esq., and usaninously resolved.—That the sum of £113 he placed in the bands of the Chairman and Committee of Chairty for distribution amongst the poor, to be expended as usual in the purchase of provisions.

After which the Annual Report of the President and officers was submitted to the Society, and by them, on motion of Michael Stafford, Esq., seconded by Michael Power, Esq., received and adopted:—Report of the President and Officers of the Benevolent Irish Society for the year ending 17th February, 1869.

ed by Michael Power, Esq., received and adopted:—Report of the Presudent and Offizers of the Bonevo-tent Ir.sh. Society for the year ending 17th February, 1869.

Our first pleasing duty is to congratulate the Society upon the attainment of this its Sixty-third anniversary.

Tae Society celebrated the anniversary of St. Patrick by the usual p ocession to the Cathedral, where they attended the sacred ceremonies of the day, and were accommodated with seats within the rails of the high altar; after mass they called to pay their respects upon his Lordship the Right Rev. Dr. Mullock, who received them in the spacious library of the Episcopal residence.

The Society's voto of One hundred pounds for the relief of the poor was expended in the purchase of bread, which was distributed by the Committee of Charity as effectively as was possible.

At the quarterly Meeting in May last the Society decided upon the purchase of a Debenture for Fitty pounds, with funds which hid been provided to augment the building-fund, which was accordingly done by the Treasurer, and there is now accumulated towards that object Two hundred and fitty pounds in Debentures of the colony.

On the 31st August the Society received Five pounds in aid of its funds, through F. J. Wyatt, Esq., M. H.A., from Horatio Bland, Ssq., a native of this country, who made a visit here after an absence of forty-six years. The Treasurer, on the part of the Society, acknowledged the donation.

We have to renew our auknowledgements of the liberal assistance given by the Legislature towards the Schools and the Industrial Department.

The Building continues to be insured for One thousand pounds sterling.

The Report of the Chairman of the Orphan Asylum School will afford full information as to the condition of the Schools, and the accounts of the Treasurer will exhibit the state of our funds, shewing that the expenditure for the year has been £515 152 24, and the received schools and the accounts of the Treasurer will exhibit the state of our funds, shewing that the ex

Our year of office having now terminated, we resign our positions, tendering to all the members our sincere thanks for the support which we have unifor-nly receive I, and the order and decorum which have been always ob-erved.

We beg to subscribe ourselves.

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.

Whelan's confession was to the effect that he was one of a gang of three who plotted McGee's murder; that his duty was to watch McGee; that he dogged his victim's steps on the night of the murder, and when he left the Parliament House he ran across the Parliament Square into the vacant lot opposite Mrs. Trotter's, where it will be remembered footsteps like his were discovered. Here he gave the signal of McGee's approach, and one of his accomplices fred the fatal shot. He said that both of them would yet be known, but steadily refused to give their names.
